Research Director Releases Study Of Enrollment Over 16-Year Period

In his capacity as Director of Admissions and Institutional Research, Dr. Floyd Belk has compiled a Statistical Analysis of Enrollment Trends From 1948 to 1964. Breaking down enrollment trends from data accumulated in the Registrar's office, Dr. Belk's report shows a constant and rapid increase since 1952. Although he collected statistical evidence, Dr. Belk said those instructors present during the fluctuations would be more qualified to interpret the fluctuations than he.

The large boy-girl ratio presently enjoyed by female students has been a consistent trend, with even the smallest margin occurring in 1952 and 1953, when 191 boys matched the 121 girls enrolled. The most pronounced variation fell in 1958-59, when the 234 women were outnumbered by 542 men, and a correspondingly large gap between 553 freshmen and 223 sophomores was evidenced.

In the field of education, a prominent incline in enrollment has taken place since 1959. Prior to that time, the average number of students majoring in education was 70 per year. A jump from 85 in 1959 to 122 in 1960 continued to 236 in 1964. When asked her opinion as to the cause of the increase, Miss Dorothy Stone felt that the increased opportunities opening for teachers is a probable explanation.

Enrollment in vocational training expanded from 10 in 1959 to its peak of 29 in 1962, with a drop back to 15 in 1964. In commenting upon Belk's study, James K. Maupin, dean of Trade and Technical Education, interpreted the latter drop as occurring when the college was eliminating programs given for credit at Franklin Technical School. He further explained that another rise is in sight now that the technical program is expanding.

The lines on each graph of the 22-page study climbed consistently during the last five years, a trend explainable by the increased emphasis being placed upon a college education. Other marked changes occurred when enrollment dropped from 501 in 1949 to 362 in 1950, and did not hit another peak until 1955, when students numbered 535. Harry Gockel felt that the Korean conflict during the period accounts for the slack due to draftees, and the later ascension is due in part to servicemen returning on the GI Bill.

Dr. Belk's statistical analysis, which does not include the highest enrollment figures, those of the past two years, still emphasizes the need for expanded facilities.

Division Chairman Receives Letter Praising Instructor

Dr. J. J. Altendorf, chairman of the Science and Mathematics Division, announced last week that he had received a letter from the Director of the 1966 National Science Foundation Summer Institute commending Larry Martin, mathematics instructor.

Written by Ralph Lee, who conducted the summer institute at Rolla, the letter stated that Martin "was an outstanding student. You are indeed fortunate to have a person on your faculty with his interest and ability."

Martin was one of 36 students chosen from more than a hundred applicants for the institute which dealt with computers.

SPC Opens Season With Dishman Exhibit

The Ozark Artists Guild opened the 1966-67 season with a 50-piece exhibit of the works of Darrel Dishman, MSC art instructor, Tuesday night. The showing will continue throughout October at Spiva Art Center, Fourth and Sergeant.

The exhibit consists of religious paintings, landscapes, and figure studies. The media Dishman uses are pen and ink, charcoal, conte crayon, water color sketches, mixed media, a few litho prints, and one cement sculpture. Many of the works are for sale, but some are on loan from private collections.

The exhibition is open to the public, including MSC students, without charge.

Dishman is director of SPC and teaches a few classes in addition to his college classes.

MSC Enrollment Shows 48 Percent Reside in Joplin

Eighteen states are represented in the 1,497 day-time student enrollment at Missouri Southern College. Ninety per cent of the student body live in Missouri, and 48 percent or 707 live in Joplin.

The statistics compiled by Dean Fred Cinotto and the administrative staff reveal that 75 percent of the total student enrollment or 1,137 live in the Jasper County Junior College District. One thousand sixty-one are full-time day students and 75 are part-time students. Three hundred sixty-eight sophomores and 768 freshmen are included in this district enrollment figure.

Of the 331 out-of-district students, 72 sophomores and 49 freshmen, are enrolled full-time and 3 part-time. Kansas has 73 students attending the college, including 41 from Galena and 21 from Baxter Springs.

Out-of-state enrollment totals 121, with 116 full-time and five part-time students. This includes 26 sophomores and 96 freshmen. Florida leads the out-of-state enrollment with seven students, while California and Colorado follow second with four.

Moreover, six students, five from the district and one from out-of-district, are not classified as either sophomores or freshmen.

Other Missouri counties, not included in the college district, show Newton with 67 students; Barton, with 27; Barry, 23; Lawrence, 21; Vernon, 16; Dade, 15; St. Louis City and McDonald, 9; Jackson, 6; Cedar and Crawford 4; and Johnson, 3.

The total number of freshmen attending Missouri Southern is 1,035, including 673 men and 362 women. Sophomores number 456, with 277 men and 179 women.

Total enrollment, including the six students not classified as either sophomores or freshmen is 954 men and 543 women.

The formation of decisions is evidenced as one prospective voter tries her hand politicizing prior to last week's class and senate elections.

McGrew, Cooper Head Classes; 25 Students Take Senate Pledge

Class officers and student senators were selected in separate elections Wednesday and Friday of last week. Successful campaigners for class president were Gary McGrew, sophomore, and Paul Cooper, freshman.

Other sophomore officers elected were Mike McKenna, vice-president; Nancy Rodgers, secretary; and Ray Mathis, parliamentarian.

Freshman officers, in addition to Cooper, are Mike Clinton, vice-president; and Cheryl Thompson, secretary.

Since there was no candidate for parliamentarian for the freshman class, Dean Dudley Stegge said that several avenues of approach to selecting the parliamentarian are being studied. They include letting either the Student Senate or freshman class president make the selection. Another solution would be for one of the elected senators to serve.

Dean Stegge said that he was disappointed with the voter turnout which he termed "very light." When asked if there were more posters than voters, the Dean said, "It certainly looks like it."

Three Community Concerts to Follow Watts Performance

A large number of students and faculty members attended the first Community Concert of the season Wednesday night presented by Andre Watts, noted young pianist. They, along with other college students, may attend three more concerts in the series this season.

Other artists scheduled are the DeCormier Folk Singers on November 17; Paul LaValle and the Band of America on January 9, 1967; and Gianna D'Angelo, soprano, March 14, 1967.

College students are admitted to these concerts by presenting activity cards. All concerts begin at 8 o'clock and are held in Joplin Senior High School auditorium, 2102 Indiana.

Considerable enthusiasm was shown by the candidates during the campaigning. Posters urging students to vote for specific candidates seemed nearly to cover the corridors and stair wells.

Seven sophomores and 18 freshmen were selected as senators. Successful sophomores are Nancy Brisbin, David Claycomb, Randall Fritchey, Dave Hokanson, Karen Hollingsworth, Roxina Meissner, and Vicki Sohosky.

Freshmen elected are Mary Jane Crocker, Sharon Gilbert, Kathy Holden, Judy Sage, Rick Call, Channy Falk, Cynthia Green, Sue Ann Gulick, Doug Hamilton, John E. Kelly, Bernard Koch, Douglas Lawson, Linda Moss, Paul Perkins, George Phebus, Melba Ritter, Janice Leann Smith, and Toni Zbraneck.

The new senators were installed yesterday by Dean Fred Cinotto. Senate officers, elected last spring, are Terry Helton, president; Dannie Fieker, vice-president; Kay Floyd, secretary; Anne Frkovitch, treasurer; and Karen Fithian, parliamentarian.

K.C. Symphony To Give Concert Here October 19

The Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra will present a concert at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, October 19, in the Joplin Senior High auditorium. Dr. Paul Shipman, administrative assistant who made the announcement, said that the Missouri State Council of the Arts will co-sponsor the appearance here along with MSC.

The Kansas City Philharmonic performed in Joplin last October before a large, enthusiastic audience. Conducted by Hans Schweiger, the orchestra made a European tour two years ago.

Those wishing to attend the concert may purchase tickets for $1.50 from MSC music students or from the business office. The high school is located at Twenty-First and Indiana.

Five members of the newly-organized 65-piece Missouri Southern College Community Symphony Orchestra discuss an organ number that Dr. Ervin Dunham will play at the first concert, November 7. Conferring with Dr. Dunham at the organ are Gail Dodson, left; William L. Taylor, conductor; Herschel Heinen, high school music supervisor at Marionville; and David Wright.

After Much Reflection . . .

On anniversaries we usually take inventory of our objectives and our methods of attaining them. Newspaper Week is no exception. As editors of The Chart, we have concluded that we have four objectives: to publish the news of interest to students, faculty, and alumni; to help the reader by commenting upon the news; to provide experience for students considering journalism as a career; and to record the events of 1966-67 for posterity.

Our methods of carrying out these objectives are guided by the Canons of The American Society of Newspaper Editors and by the Journalist's Creed of Walter Williams, founder of the oldest journalism school in the world.

The planks of the ASNE Canons of Journalism commit us to responsibility, freedom of the press, independence, sincerity, truthfulness, accuracy, impartiality, fair play, and decency.

The internationally recognized code of Walter Williams follows:

"I believe that the public journal is a public trust; that all connected with it are, to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public; that acceptance of a lesser service than the public service is betrayal of this trust.

"I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy, and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.

"I believe that a journalist should write only what he holds in his heart to be true.

"I believe that suppression of the news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible.

"I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another; that individual responsibility may not be escaped by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends.

"I believe that advertising, news and editorial columns should alike serve the best interests of readers; that a single standard of helpful truth and cleanness should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.

"I believe that the journalism which succeeds best—and best deserves success—fears God and honors man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant but never careless, self-controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid, is quickly indignant at injustice; is unswayed by the appeal of privilege or the clamor of the mob; seeks to give every man a chance, and, as far as law and honest wage and recognition of human brotherhood can make it so, an equal chance; is profoundly patriotic while sincerely promoting international good will and cementing world-comradeship; is a journalism of humanity, of and for today's world."

By practicing these rules and following the highest aspirations of American journalism, we feel that we can more nearly reflect the image that Missouri Southern College deserves.

The Boles Appraise Norway's Art

Royal Welcome — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boles shake hands with the Norwegian Crown Prince Harold, and King Olav V at a reception they attended while studying at the International Summer School in Oslo last summer. "I didn't know that a little boy had taken our picture," the MSC art teacher stated. "When he asked a price I felt was unreasonable, I hastily sketched his portrait and we exchanged pictures."

Studying Norwegian art, music, and literature, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boles attended the International Summer School in Oslo, Norway, last summer. The combined study-travel mission lasted two months and included many artistic and cultural aspects of Norway. In addition, the Boles toured Sweden, Iceland, and Greenland.

The MSC instructor said that the International Summer School, a division of the University of Norway, promotes cultural exchange between Norway and other nations of the world. Last summer, the twentieth session of the school, classes were taught in English to students from 47 countries. All studies were financed by the Norwegian state itself and held at the King's palace.

Boles took two hours in Norwegian literature and four hours in painting and sculpturing. Mrs. Boles studied arts and crafts and music of Norway. His studies included a survey of shriek art, a new style in painting, and works of Viegland, a famous classical sculptor.

"Shriek art is exactly what it says," Boles points out. "Each time one looks at a work done in this style, he screams. Munch, a shriek artist and contemporary of Van Gogh, combined wild colors and abstract geometric designs with simplicity and balance. But the prevailing message in nearly all of his masterpieces is one of horror and shock. Even so, Munch's technique is very popular among art connoisseurs today."

Commenting on classical sculpture, the instructor said, "Norway excels in this realm of art."

Viegland's Monolith, 70 feet high, rises in levels of 127 nude men and women. The carved boulder, now in the state museum, depicts the ages of mankind from birth to old age."

During the International Summer School, the Boles lived in Telemarck, a 300-year-old inn outside Oslo. "At Telemarck, nearly all the employees are painters, sculptors, or other artisans, and I enjoyed sharing artistic knowledge with them," he remarked.

In summarizing the character of Norwegian art today, Boles said:

"Essentially, Norwegian art today is not free. Most of the nation's great artists, such as Viegland and Munch, were subsidized by the government."

Administrators Attend Examiners Conference

Clerical Personnel
Force Grows Larger

New students and faculty members are not the only new faces on campus this semester. There are four new secretaries: Mrs. Ethyl Caldemeyer, Miss Charlene Mahurin, Mrs. Elizabeth Mueller, and Mrs. Connie Smart. Only one of the four is a replacement.

Mrs. Ethyl Caldemeyer, a former Fairchild employee, is a secretary in the registrar's office. Miss Charlene Mahurin, a 1966 graduate of MSC, is a cashier-secretary in the finance office. Mrs. Elizabeth Mueller, a graduate of Missouri Valley College, is the new library clerk. Mrs. Connie Smart is secretary for the Division of Trade and Technology. She is also supervising a student clerical work study program.

Women's P.E. Club
Opens Membership

Membership in MSC women's physical education club is open to any girl interested in various physical education activities. Miss Venus Yount, physical education instructor and sponsor of the club, said that anyone wishing to join may give name and 50-cent semester fee either to her or to club officers — Sandy Lundien, Eve Farmer, and Deborah White.

Last year, the MSC club participated in such activities as dance clinics, swimming competitions, and track meets at colleges in the four-state area. "This year, the club is planning similar athletic events," the instructor said.

Members of the club were guests at a picnic held September 29 on the Kansas State College campus at Pittsburg. Miss Yount said that the picnic was coordinated by the KSC women's physical education club.

Auto Technologists Tune Up Lab With Equipment

"This machine can do about everything but take your blood pressure, and we are installing that device next semester." This is the way Dwight Mason, instructor of Automotive Technology, described the Engine Analyzer and new equipment arriving out on the new MSC campus at Mission Hills. What used to be a three-car garage is now a combination classroom and engine laboratory.

The Engine Analyzer, the largest piece of the new equipment, is used to detect tune-up troubles, battery problems, and alternator troubles. An oscilloscope, resembling a small television screen mounted above the analyzer, is used to see what happens in the primary, secondary, and charging circuits of the engine's electrical system.

In addition to the analyzer, there are five individual "trouble shooters" designed to do a specific job in engine adjustment. Resembling small television sets on mobile stands, the units are practical for individual study by the student.

Art Film Series
Opens Tuesday Night

The first program in a series of film classics sponsored by the Spiva Art Center film society is scheduled for 7:30, Tuesday night, in the Little Theatre of MSC.

This dual program will consist of the Chaplin program and a British Documentary program. The Chaplin program will feature the greatest personality of the silent screen in "Auto Race," "Between Showers," and "The Floorwalker." The second portion of the film program, the British Documentary program, describes the human meaning behind the journey of a mail train in "Night Mail" and presents an impressionistic portrait of the people of war-torn England in "Listen to Britain."

A membership fee of $4 entitles the holder to view all six programs. Single admissions are $1. Further information may be obtained by calling MA 3-0183.

"Where possible, all equipment is of the latest design towards automation with either air control, hydraulic control, or electric control. Most of the units are mobile and transistorized," Mason said.

In the engine lab, the instructor pointed out a new wheel balancer, a new welder, a new stroboscope, which adjusts and detects malfunctions in the distributor, a headlight intensity detector and aligner, and a brake shoe and brake drum grinder. "To facilitate clean working conditions and parts, we have solvent vats and high-pressure steam cleaning," he added.

In discussing the work of the 20 students enrolled, the instructor noted, "The course is 75 per cent theory and 25 percent practice."

In order to handle more students and classes, extension work is being done just east of MSC's barn theatre. The foundation was completed September 22.

MSC Art Majors
Plan to Organize

Missouri Southern art majors are organizing an art league for all students interested in art. Dick Cole, art major, said that preliminary approval had been received from Dean Dudley Stegge for the group to organize and draw up a constitution. To become a College authorized group, at least 20 students must become members.

Cole said that the first meeting of the group will be held at 7:30, Tuesday night, at the College. The room has not been selected. He developed the idea of the organization with the approval of art instructors Arthur Boles and Darrel Dishman who will act as advisors.

According to the sophomore, "The main purpose of the organization is to promote a fuller interest in the fine arts among youth of Joplin and the surrounding area and also to create a better understanding of modern concepts of art and the artist."

Other purposes include: "planning and organizing student art exhibits; arranging for guest artists to speak or demonstrate their media; promoting group discussions; and sponsoring other events to be decided upon by members."

Miss McCormick
Teaches Rolla Course

Miss Martha McCormick is teaching a graduated differential equations class at Crowder College Monday nights from 6:30 to 9:30. The course is affiliated with the University of Missouri at Rolla, but is held on the Crowder Campus because it is near Rocketdyne.

Miss McCormick said that the course is mainly a refresher course and not applicable to an advanced degree.

Missouri Southern Raps Connors In Home Opener

Missouri Southern College Lions, spurred by fleet-footed Wesley Garnett, rolled past Connors A&M 33-18, October 1 at Junge Stadium. The Lions gave a home opener crowd their third win in four tries.

Garnett, the freshman speedster from Pittsburgh, Penn. scored four touchdowns, twice on scrimmage runs, once on a pass interception, and once on a touchdown pass from quarterback Clarence Thornhill.

Quarterback Terry McMillan accounted for the other Lion tally when he scampered 26 yards past Connors' defenders midway in the second quarter.

Aggie fullback Jim Burnett accounted for all of his team's touchdowns and led in rushing yardage with 100 yards on 27 carries.

Southern's Garnett was the first man to cross the enemy goal line when he snagged an Aggie pass for a 55-yard scoring play to put the Lions in front with only seven and a half minutes gone in the first quarter. The Lions never trailed from that point as they scored in each quarter. Connors tied the score 12 plays later. The Lions went out in front to stay in the second quarter when Mc-

Millan sprinted 26 yards past the Connors secondary.

In the second half after MSC went to the dressing room with a 20-6 lead, the Lions scored on their second play from scrimmage with Garnett springing 61 yards for his third touchdown.

Southern picked up their final touchdown with an 11-yard pass from Thornhill to Garnett.

OMA Interrupts Grid Winning Streak

Oklahoma Military Academy exploded for four touchdowns in the third quarter September 15, crushing Missouri Southern Lions 51-13, to halt the Lions' winning record at 12 games. It was the first setback for the Lions of Coach Ron Toman since the eighth game of the 1964 season.

Ken Currie, a hard-running fullback, led the OMA assault with 143 yards on 27 carries, accounting for more than half of the Cadets' 237 rushing yards.

OMA's aerial game, led by quarterback Doyle Clark, produced 120 yards on 10 completions in 18 attempts.

Mistakes hurt Missouri Southern as the Lions lost the ball four times on fumbles and twice on pass interceptions. One of the fumbles was recovered by B. G. Cogle in the third quarter and returned 40 yards for a touchdown.

Wesley Garnett, a 6-1, 185-pound halfback from Pittsburgh, Pa., who just reported for duty last Sunday, scored both Southern touchdowns.

A 65-yard punt return accounted for the Lions' final touchdown in the fourth quarter, but it was the game's most spectacular play, Southern halfback Charley Reid fielded the punt on his own 35, cut to the sidelines, shook off one tackler, sidestepped two more and then with tacklers closing in on the OMA 30, lateraled to Garnett. With Reid leveling one of the would-be defenders, Garnett outran the other to the OMA goal.

Currie and halfback Robert Hammond each scored a pair of touchdowns for the Cadets. Hammond scored the first two on two-yard plunges in the first and second quarters. A 37-yard field goal by Ray Knowlton gave OMA a 17-0 lead with 2:22 left in the first half.

Currie's two touchdowns came in the third stanza on runs of six and eight yards. Halfback Mark Crossland dashed five yards for the final OMA touchdown with 7:02 left in the closing period.

Southern Rolls Past Highland Scots

The fired-up Lions of MSC stormed back after their stunning OMA loss to whip the Highland Kansas Scotties, 42-21, September 24, at Highland.

Led by their bruising fullback, John Mack, the Lions rushed for 426 yards in the wide-open tussle. Mack accounted for 151 yards while Wesley Garnett of Southern ran for 144 yards and three touchdown scampers. Harold Fountain contributed 83 yards to the winning cause.

After scores by Garnett and Mack, Highland's quarterback, Pat Wozniak fired a 34-yard pass to split-end Vic Hewins for the Scotties first score. The kick-off to Southern resulted in a 56-yard run-back by Mike Blanks to set up Southern's third touchdown. Quarterback Terry McMillan scored from the five and Tom Kielbasa kicked one of his six perfect extra points.

Garnett's 60-yard touchdown dash came next and the half ended with the score, 28-7, in favor of Missouri Southern College.

The Lions' lone passing tally came with 10:10 left in the third quarter as McMillan hit his end Don Turner with a 24-yard scoring strike.

Southern's final tally came in the fourth quarter as Garnett broke open for a 38-yard romp.
